

Welcome to our 100 Alumnae Anniversary

by Sister Ann Marshall, C.S.J. Hamilton

It seems to me that we are called together today in celebration by the voices of those pioneer Sisters who courageously opened St. Joseph's Training School in 1911, as well as by the voices of the first graduates of 1915 and who became the nucleus of today's successful Alumnae. What a wonderful legacy we inherited, and have kept alive and thriving due to the passion and vision of our present Executive under the capable leadership of Cheryl McQueen, as well as by all previous hard working Executives over the years. We owe these generous members a heartfelt thank you for a job well done.

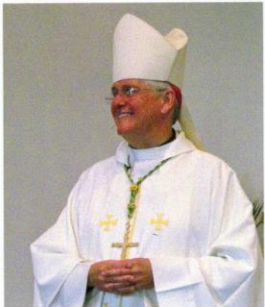

37 years ago the last official class graduated from St. Joseph's and still the annual reunion draws in 400 + to the Alma Mater. We must be doing something right. Rumi, the poet-mystic of the 16th Century, states that our greatest strength lies in the gentleness and tenderness of our heart. And that aptly describes the heart of a nurse.

So let the celebrations begin as we remember, rejoice, recognize, and perhaps shed a tear for past friends, and lost youth, but with hearts full of gratitude to a loving God who sustains and nourishes us with love, and tenderness each day of this earthly journey.

There are many who deserved to be recognized for their commitment as Alumnae members who have gone beyond the call of duty; I'm certain that this will happen later on today, but I would be remiss if I didn't thank Sister Virginia, our Alumnae memory, and faithful liaison over the years. Thank you Sister Virginia.

We are indeed privileged to welcome Bishop Crosby, and are indebted to you, Bishop, for honouring this occasion with your presence. I hope it is a joyful sacrifice in your busy schedule.

And what could make this occasion more special than the presence of our distinguished Chancellor and friend, Msg. Kroetch. We are most happy to welcome you to the 100th anniversary of our Alumnae. This is indeed a time to sing.

Toast to the Alma Mater by Dorothy Battey Richardson '65

Sisters of St Joseph, special guests, our Alumnae committee and all the nurses celebrating today, I am honoured to be representing the Class of '65 as we celebrate our 50th anniversary and pay tribute to our wonderful Alumnae Association on their 100th anniversary.

All of us here today are coming back with memories of our nursing 'days, our professional careers and many milestones along the way. As I remember significant events in my life over the past 50 years there is one year that brings back fond memories for my two sisters and myself. It was another 50th anniversary from nursing celebrated many years ago.

Our mother Florence Battey, who nursed on maternity at St Joseph's for many years under the supervision of Sister Ursula, graduated in 1932 from Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary Alberta. In 1982 her class was celebrating their 50th anniversary from nursing in Calgary. She had never been back to a class reunion in those 50 years. She was determined to go, even though she had never been on a plane, travelled alone or been far from Hamilton. We, her daughter's, got caught up in her excitement and anticipation as she planned her trip, packed her bag and flew off to her first reunion.

She came back with wonderful stories and happy memories just as we all will do when we leave here today. This was a defining moment for us, her daughters, as we realized that some milestones in our lives are very special and are not to be missed.

Coming full circle, here I am celebrating with my classmates our 50th. Some have travelled great distances to be with us today others could not be with us due to illness and our thoughts are with them. Even though we the class of '65 are now seniors, when we came together today we quickly become those young women living in residence back in the 60s. We shared clothes, shared rooms, shared notes, we watched "soaps", learned to play bridge and euchre and tried to remember all we were being taught in the classroom and on the wards. The magic of those three years gave us the lasting friendships we cherish, the recall of many funny stories and the skills we needed for our life after training.

We would all like to remember the 100th anniversary of our alumnae with profound gratitude. The many nurses down through the years had the commitment and dedication to keep the alumnae organization going. We honour all of them today starting with the class of 1915.

Let us raise our glass in a special toast to our alma mater
